

Dermaviduals

Is a unique skincare range developed by Dr Hans Lautenschlager. You can only buy it from a skin therapist who has analysed your skin and given you professional advice.

There are 3 key differences with this range

1. The key ingredient is Phosphatidylcholine. This is a fundamental component in all cell membranes and is vital for skin health.
2. There are no Emulsifiers in the range. It is considered that Emulsifiers can pull dirt into the skin causing irritation and sit on the surface of the skin, building up an unwanted layer that doesn't get cleansed off, leading to disrupted skin barrier
3. Your therapist is able to create bespoke products that can be changed with the seasons. skin condition, age or concern with 35 specialist active ingredients to choose from
